So what is LACA Ltd?

Who are we?

LACA

the school food people

LACA, the school food people, is a membership association. Our members sit at the heart of school food delivery, representing over 3,300 different organisations and individuals, all dedicated to ensuring that our children get the benefits from a healthy nutritious school lunch.

Our members range from providers within Local Authorities, contract caterers, catering managers, heads of kitchen, kitchen and school staff, through to food and catering equipment suppliers and manufacturers.

Our members ensure that over 3 million lunches are served in 22,000 schools every day throughout England and Wales. In total, 80% of the education catering service in England and Wales is provided by our members.

LACA works to ensure that the investment in school meals is matched by the highest standards of professionalism in education catering. Being the school food people means that we work with Government and other relevant organisations on all aspects of school food and in delivering healthy eating policies, as well as equipping school catering providers with the necessary skills, knowledge and support to enable them to meet the changing demands in the industry.

There are different membership categories for catering providers and suppliers to the sector and additionally, LACA offers a Partners' scheme to all suppliers to the LACA market, although there is a maximum number of Partners each year set by the Board. The scheme is intended to maximise the partnership working so essential to the success of LACA.

LACA vision and mission statement

“Together we achieve excellence in school food”

We are here to give everyone who provides catering within the education sector a voice – as well as the knowledge, resources and support to make nutritious and healthy food part of everyday life. We do this each day because great school food helps young people to thrive, concentrate, enjoy school and achieve more.

Professional Standards/Learning and Development

The School Workforce Professional Standards clearly define the professional requirements that underpin the delivery of quality school food and the knowledge, skills and behaviours that an individual needs to achieve the best standard of performance in their job role.

Five standards have been developed for the following job roles: Head of Kitchen; Cook; Assistant Cook; Kitchen Assistant; Midday Supervisor

Apprenticeships are the next step and progression for those staff using the professional standards to gain a qualification and LACA signposts members to two that have been identified for our catering sector:

Production Chef – Level 2 for those staff using the Cook Professional standard

Senior Production Chef – Level 3 for those staff using the Head of Kitchen Professional Standard

LACA Menu Checking

LACA's Menu Checking Service allows organisations, academies, schools and caterers to demonstrate that their menus meet national best practice nutritional guidelines and demonstrates independently authenticated compliance. Support is given to ensure that pupils have access to healthy, balanced, nutritious meals and are encouraged, via the catering provision, to make healthy choices, thereby supporting the development of healthy eating habits.

LACA School Allergens Guidance and Risk Analysis Process

The LACA Allergen Management Guidance for Catering in Education aims to support schools, caterers and pupils in understanding the best practice for caterers in education with regards to managing allergens safely.
